THIRTY-SECOND SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

THANKSGIVING is a time for giving thanks, for recognizing how truly blessed we are—as a nation, as a people, as family and as individuals. These are easily understood and are usually well-integrated into the lives of Christians everywhere. But the spirit of thanksgiving always includes the importance of remembrance—of a time when we have struggled, when we have not always been free, when we have not always had enough. This remembrance awakens the spirit of gratitude within us—whether we recall our own personal periods of times of struggle, or when we take the time to remember the struggles of our ancestors. Often, we remember the pilgrims arriving here and celebrating the first Thanksgiving having survived the first harsh New England winter, but it is important to remember that all of our families who arrived in ensuing generations fought to live in their first years here. Having traveled to Ireland earlier this year, visiting Dublin and the monuments to those who died during the famine, I was struck with just how strong the desire to live burns within us. Those monuments were not only for those who died in Ireland, but also those who died aboard ship on their way here; those who were turned away even after they arrived at Ellis Island or were diverted to Canada. It is also important to remember those who have arrived more recently—perhaps victims of violence, perhaps having sought political asylum or those for whom the struggle to make a living and feed their families became impossible to remain in their countries of origin. Our very understanding of ‘eucharist’ is that action of God’s people giving thanks for the lives that we have, for the blessings we have received, for the relationship we have with one another in our community.

SO MANY BLESSINGS

We're especially grateful, as a parish and school, for the countless hours of volunteer work, behind the scenes support and the prayers of the members of this parish. Your commitment and dedication enables this parish to minister with generosity and great charity in the name of Jesus Christ.

Wishing everyone a blessed Thanksgiving!

Fr. Tim, TJ Romano, Kevin Ford, Wendy Thomas, Jane Weigelt

WINTER GLOVE DRIVE—The Society of St. Vincent de Paul is planning its annual winter glove drive to provide gloves and mittens to the adults served by the Christmas Bureau. Adult mittens or gloves are requested by the Bureau as they have so much for children, yet just a food voucher for adults. They are hoping to collect 3,000 pairs of gloves from the various churches in Spokane. Please bring new or slightly used gloves to the church and place them in the collection box by the door to the cry room. They will be picked up Thanksgiving week to have them ready for the opening of the Christmas Bureau on December 8.

The Sacrament of Penance (Confession) is probably one of the most easily misunderstood sacraments in the life of the Church. For those coming from non-Catholic backgrounds it seems extraordinarily strange, and one hears questions like: “Why should I have to go and confess to a priest? He’s just another person. I can talk to God directly!” [True, on many levels, but incomplete in others]. For those who are “cradle Catholics” their early experiences of dark confessionals, perhaps even making up sins in order to have something to confess, or poor counsel offered by priests who were not well-formed in pastoral theology have all diminished the use of the sacrament for many people.

Pope Francis, in inaugurating the Year of Mercy a couple of years ago, emphasized the importance of helping people to grow in awareness of that constant, merciful presence of a God who seeks to embrace us and bring us renewal.

On Tuesday, November 28th at 7:00 p.m. I’ll be presenting an opportunity to give some basic background information on the sacrament—what it is and what it isn’t; “what happened to ‘mortal’ and ‘venial’ sins?”; “how can it be beneficial?”; “when is it recommended?”; “how often should I go?”; and “how do I make a good examination of conscience?” There will be lots of opportunities for conversation, questions and dialogue...please join me at 7:00pm in the church.

FAITH—FAMILY—FUN

In celebration of our liturgical season of Advent, (which begins on Sunday, Dec 3), we would like to invite all families with children of any age, to a family potluck and an evening of faith enrichment.

Please join us at 4:00pm on Sunday, Dec 3 in the gym with a dish to share.

- Our purpose and hope is to develop peer support within our community; as families seek ideas and suggestions to help pass on our rich tradition of Catholic faith.
- Additional gatherings will be planned according to our liturgical seasons.
- Any questions? - please call the Parish Office.

BLOOD DRIVE — Assumption is again partnering with Inland Northwest Blood Center to host a Blood Drive on Monday, December 1 from 12:00-5:00. You can help Assumption Parish Catholic School raise money for our science program by donating blood. Last year, 38 people generously gave of their time and we received a $1,500 grant that allowed us to purchase FOSS kits for our Kindergarten through 5th grade students. FOSS kits are a set of science lab experiments that gives students hands on learning experiences in science. This year we would like to purchase FOSS kits for our Junior High students.

We need at least 30 volunteers in December to give blood for Assumption and another 30 in the spring to receive this $1,500 science grant. You can make your appointment today at inbcaves.org and click on "make an appointment". Enter the sponsor name of Assumption Elementary School and then schedule your preferred time. Or, please call the school office at 328-1115 to sign up or for additional details. Thank you for your support.
